Fewer Clicks, Not Fewer Searches: Generative AI and the Monetization of Search

Author: [Full name][1]

[1] [Department], Hanyang University, Seoul, Republic of Korea

Corresponding author: [Full name], ooklee@hanyang.ac.kr

Submission to: Information Systems Research

Keywords: generative AI, search engines, click-through, sponsored search, AI Overviews, advertising, natural experiment, two-sided platforms, inference cost

Word count: approximately 17,500 (main text, including references; excluding the online appendix)

Acknowledgments. [Optional: thank colleagues, seminar participants, and data providers.]

Funding. [State any funding sources, or "The author received no specific funding for this work."]

Conflicts of interest. [State any conflicts, or "The author declares no conflicts of interest."]

Use of generative AI. [Describe, in line with the INFORMS policy on AI tools, which tools were used and for which tasks, and confirm that the author reviewed and takes full responsibility for all content.]